St Fillans Village 1851

The village of St.Fillans lies at the east end of Loch Earn. In a very pleasant and romantic setting. The inhabitants consist mostly of retired officers of the present army and labourers. The village is a clean and inviting place. The people live in sociably comfortable circumstances.

*John McDonald, Minister of Comrie
The manse 10th April 1851*

The census records compiled by David Walker, Innkeeper, on the 5th April 1851 show that there were 37 properties situated between Little Port Farm and the Lime Kilns, four of which were unoccupied. There were a total of 131 residents recorded comprising 64 males and 37 females.

This shows a reduction of 6 properties and 41 residents compared to the 1841 returns.

Notes:-

The vast majority of the local population was still employed as farm labourers and farm servants, and a rise in the number of shoemakers and tailors offering their services.

We also begin to see an influx of retired army personnel beginning to arrive in the village.

Wages were not much better than the rates being paid on the last census, land improvements were still slow in being implemented. And evidently sheep farming was on the increase.

There were 24 properties and 1 uninhabited property out-with the village, with 83 males and 78 females recorded
